4. Risk factors for the activity

Year-over-year GDP growth indicators (Euro Area, q/q-4)

As of the present moment, the management of Stara Planina Hold Plc is not aware of any specific trends or conditions which may exercise significant influence on the future activity and results of the company. Risks to the company and risk management related solely to the risks relevant to the activities of the subsidiaries of the group.

A significant impact on the financial status of Stara Planina Hold Plc results from the direct dependence on the financial results of its subsidiaries and associated companies, the main business of which is export oriented - mainly to EU countries.

Our analysts monitor closely the development of the European economy and the impact of global processes. Europe continues to be a secure and very predictable market for us.

The processes in the European economy and especially in the Eurozone are sluggish yet over the last year industrial manufacturing registered growth.

The short-term orders made by our traditional customers from Western Europe have now become an established practice. In that sense, there could be some fluctuations, which might have a positive or negative effect on our results.

EUROSTAT reported a 2.3% increase in the Eurozone GDP for 2017 and 2.4% in EU28 compared to 1.8 and 2.0%, respectively, in 2016. The annual growth of the Bulgarian economy is 3.5%.

Despite the slight drop in the rate of 0.8 percentage point month-over-month in the beginning of 2018, the economic sentiment indicator ESI grew annually from 108 to 114 points. The main reason for the overall decrease in confidence is that Eurostat still calculates data from the UK where the monthly drop is 1.6 percentage points and the annual decrease is 27.9%.

In 2017 industrial manufacturing in the Eurozone grew by 3.0% and by 3.3 in EU28, compared to 1.3% and 1.4%, respectively, for 2016.

Eurostat also registered the lowest unemployment rate since 2008. In January 2018 the Eurozone unemployment rate was 8.6%, in EU28 it was 7.3%, and in Bulgaria it stood at 5.9%. In January 2017 the Eurozone unemployment rate was 9.6%. The drop in the Eurozone unemployment rate means nearly 1.430 million new jobs.

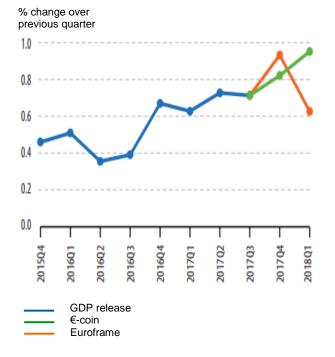

In 2017 the consumption of steel for the production of machine parts in the EU grew by 1.9% compared to 2.5% in 2016. Manufacturing in steel-consuming industries in the EU is expected to grow by 2.2% in 2018 and by 1.8% in 2019. This clearly shows that the growth potential of the European economy in the machine-building sector is not exhausted which is good news in the light of the worrying signals for the consumption in Asia. The anti-dumping process is expected to have a negative impact on the European economy.

Inflation processes are indicative of the business environment. For a second consecutive year the inflation in the Eurozone is positive and in February 2018 it was 1.2% on a 12-month basis. Energy costs account for the largest share in this rate.

Changes in the currency values also have a certain effect and constitute a risk factor for the business. Exchange rates affect the export sales revenue and the shipping costs for the delivery of raw materials from abroad. The exchange rate of the Euro to the US dollar in 2017 remained within a narrow band of around 1.127. However, in February 2018 the average monthly exchange rate of the Euro to the US dollar reached 1.2347 compared to 1.0642 12 months earlier. The lower rate of the US dollar is due to the antidumping process and it is not clear where the end of this trend would be.

The change in the interest rates also has an effect depending on the share of bank and commercial loans taken. The global short-term interest rates are still at stable low levels with Euribor continuing in the negative, yet there is a slight but solid increase in the long-term interest rates in EU28 of over 1.8%. Stara Planina Hold Plc uses optimally the available resource in order to reduce the impact of the interest rate levels.

Quarter-over-quarter GDP growth indicators (Euro Area, q/q-1)

Development of the steel using sectors (E-28, % change YoY)

Factors which are expected to have an impact on the costs in 2018 are the market prices of raw materials and production inputs, regional market price of labor force and the prices of energy resources. The non-market determination of a significant portion of the electricity price components in Bulgaria will continue to have a negative effect on our manufacturing costs.

The optimistic forecasts of EUROFER, published each quarter in 2017 were confirmed but were also increased over the subsequent periods.

Together with the optimistic data from Eurostat mentioned earlier in this report, EUROFER forecasts for 2018 are also firmly expressed in positive numbers. In the beginning of 2017, the European Steel Association issued a 2018 forecast of 2.3% growth in machine building and growth of 1.8% in the production of machinery components. The forecasts in the beginning of this year were increased to 2.9% and 3.1%, respectively.

There are risks associated with the potential changes in the demand for the manufactured products due to changes in price levels, quality, reliability, and the solvency of consumers, the technologies used and the organization of the manufacturing process.

The main task faced by the management of the companies from Stara Planina Hold Plc group is to improve cost-effectiveness, retain the existing and attract new clients with highquality and promptly delivered goods.

III. Important events occurred since the beginning of the Year

IV. Projected development of the company and planned business policy

Net sales revenue (Quarterly, BGN'000s)

Stara Planina Hold Plc and the enterprises from our group bid good bye to another successful year. The first year of the third decade of Stara Planina Hold Plc is the most successful in the history of the group. Preliminary data show that the annual sales of the group enterprises have reached BGN 217.9 million, showing an increase of 16.24% compared to 2016. At the same time the net profit of Stara Planina Plc reached BGN 5,531 thousand which will give us assurance that a part of it will be distributed as a dividend to the holding's shareholders for another consecutive year. Traditionally, dividends will also be distributed by the largest enterprises of the group.

Group's results are directly dependent on the processes taking place in the Eurozone economy which exhibits decreased confidence in the industrial manufacturing against the background of an increasing global insecurity and cautious investors.

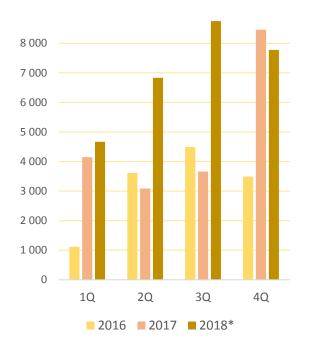

The level of our export is directly dependent on the markets in which the group operates – mainly in the EU. Throughout 2017, we managed to retain our main markets, including the markets in Russia. Regardless of this fact, the mutual sanctions between the EU and Russia continue to hamper our business in many areas.

The Board of Directors of Stara Planina Hold Plc expects the consolidated sales revenue to reach BGN 226.0 million in 2018, which represents an increase of 3.7% compared to the 2017 estimates.

The Board of Directors of Stara Planina Hold Plc maintains the forecasts for the beginning of 2018.

We expect the year-over-year rate of sales within the group to remain the same with the consolidated income from sales for 1Q increased by 11.3% compared to the beginning of 2017. In the 2Q, which is traditionally the strongest one, sales are expected to grow by about 5.0% on an annual basis with the first six months of 2018 performing stronger by 8.1% than the first six months of 2017. We expect for the second half of the year to be comparable with the same period of 2017.

Investments (Quarterly, BGN'000s)

It is possible that these estimates won't be reached due to the non-market increase in the industrial electricity costs. We cannot turn a blind eye on this rather worrying fact as this is affecting not only our manufacturing costs but has also an impact on the energy intensive production processes of our suppliers, e.g. metal castings and blanks.

In 2018, too, our priority task is to retain the major markets and to widen our presence in the new markets. This will require us to offer good prices, high quality and short delivery times. We expect the prices of the main raw materials to remain stable, with insignificant downward movement.

Our companies plan investments which would result in the launch of new products, higher productivity and better remuneration for the employed staff, respectively.

In 2017, the investments in the entire Stara Planina Hold Plc group reached BGN 19.3 million - 52% higher than the investments made in 2016.

In 2018 we will continue to have an active investment policy and we expect a new significant investment growth of 45% reaching BGN 28 million.

The companies are preparing to participate in the procedures under the European operational programs Human Resources Development and Competitiveness. The major portion of the planned investments will be allocated for the upgrade of production facilities as well as for the enhancement of the organizational capacity and human resources of the companies. Over 6% of the investments are to be made in the area of social activities.

This year, too, our top priority was to increase labor productivity and retain highly qualified professionals. The number of employees at the end of 2017 is 9.8% higher compared to the last quarter of 2016. At the same time, while the annual increase in the operating expenses of the group is around 16%, the increase in the wages and social security costs exceeds 24% and labor productivity has been increased by 6.0%.

In 2018 we plan to increase the following:

- Number of employees by 1.0%
- Labor productivity by 2.4%
- Wages by 5.8%.

The achievement of a good financial result at the expected production volume is a major task to accomplish so as to ensure the market capitalization of the companies of the group in view of guaranteeing shareholders' investments and their profitability.

As a holding type company, Stara Planina Hold Plc does not carry out autonomous trade activity. The holding provides support to the enterprises from the group in the research and development activity since it views this activity as an integral part of the annual business plans of the companies.

The companies have departments and units developing operations for process improvement, and research and development of new products. In 2017, too, the main objectives of the units carrying out R&D activities were focused on meeting the growing requirements of the customers by developing new types of products.
